FIRST WEEK OF SCHOOL FINDS WORK OF CLASSES WELL ORGANIZED

The first week of High school has passed, and most of the classes are well under way. The "Scrubs" seem, finally, to be learning what to do. Not quite so many of them approach you with: "Say, where is room 19?" or, "Could you please tell me what period this is?" or, "Isn't it noon yet?" or, "O, isn't this the study hall?" or, "How do you work this pencil sharpener?" The upper classmen still have to dodge them, however, or swim through them, or find some other means of getting about, but they are rapidly getting used to that.

Yesterday the High school was the scene of a very pleasant reunion between some of last year's graduates, several of whom leave soon for long absences. Among these is Grace Beach of the class of '16, who will attend the famous Martha Washington Seminary at Washington, D. C. Miss Beach plans to leave Glendale on Sept. 20, in company with Mrs. Bodie of Glendale. She will probably stop over at Des Moines.

Other alumni members who visited yesterday and during the week are, Pauline Hamilton, Mary Jane Evans, Lola East, Doris Ingledue, Carol Willisford, Cora Frentz, Robert Kolts, George Dyer, Joseph Maier, Frank Bridgeford, William Renshaw, Jamie Shea and Howard Stickney.

Howard Stickney and George Dyer are attending U. S. C. Law School. It will be remembered that both of these fellows took an active and valuable part in school affairs while in Glendale High school, and they seem assured of success in their chosen profession.

Miss Muller's advanced class in Process Drawing is busily engaged designing G. U. H. S. monograms for future use on banners, class pins, and rings. Miss Muller foresees an extra large demand upon her department for good monograms and numerals, and this year she is going to be prepared. It is expected that the Process class will be a great aid in making this year's Stylus an artistic success.

The school orchestra this year promises to be a "hummer," according to Mrs. Gibson, the director and head of the school music department. The Junior orchestra, which was organized last year, is proving very helpful in filling the vacancies left by graduating students. Several new musicians also reported at the first meeting. It is most gratifying to Mrs. Gibson to have so much good material for the orchestra at her command.

An interesting item recently published in the Los Angeles Times states that football will be discontinued at Glendale High school this year, "because the game is too rough." That's news to Glendale High. In Glendale football has always been considered too rude, entirely, for High school students—O, my! Yes! All that is left for the Sunday School classes.

PLEASING DINNER PARTY

A pleasing dinner party was given, Thursday, by Mrs. E. M. Lynch, of 907 Damasco court, in honor of Mrs. Harry B. Lynch, 216 Orange street. The dooms were beautifully decorated with pink carnations and ferns. Sixteen guests were present and dinner was served at four tables, at all of which the pink carnation motif was carried out. The guests present were:

Mrs. Harry B. Lynch, the guest of honor; Mrs. Ed Lynch of Pasadena and her daughter Lillian; Mrs. W. S. Althouse, Mrs. Jordan Neel, Mrs. Ernest Morgan, Miss Eula Richardson, Mrs. George Woodberry, Mrs. Frank Echols, Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. Emil Francis Tholen, Mrs. George Dwight Wood, Miss Dorothy Wood, Mrs. Harry Parker, Miss Genevieve Lynch and the hostess, Mrs. E. M. Lynch.

HONOR BRIDE AND GROOM ELECT

Miss Gladys Anderson and Mr. Fred Humphrey, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Anderson, are entertaining at Mr. Humphrey's cabin on Mt. Baldy over the week end. Misses Mabeth Pigg and Laura Maxwell and Mr. Thomas Furst and James McBryde. The trip is in honor of Miss Pigg and Mr. Furst, whose wedding is announced for December.

Mrs. Manson, mother of Mrs. J. N. McGillis, has been quite ill but is improved at this writing.

PACIFIC AVENUE P. T. A.

BUSY ASSOCIATION ARRANGES ITS WORK FOR THE COMING YEAR

The Executive Board of the Parent-Teacher association of the Pacific Avenue school met at the home of the president, Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, 805 S. Central, Thursday afternoon. From the time luncheon was over, till the Reading circle began at 3:30, an hour and a half late owing to the interest of the business meeting, there was not an idle moment. The Parliamentarian was about her business, and helped each one to be accurate, brief, and to the point.

Mrs. Chas. Hutchinson, president of the P. T. A. Federation of Glendale, was present and went carefully over each committee's official duties. For this each one expressed gratitude.

This is the youngest of Glendale's eight Parent-Teacher associations and has a membership of one hundred and ten.

Some of the departments were well organized by those interested in the special line, and made a success of, and now we are adopting them, instead of creating a department and seeking a chairman.

These active women are intensely interested and thoroughly awake to needs and possibilities and sympathetically and enthusiastically working together to elevate their community along all lines and make more pleasant and harmonious the paths of parents, pupils and teachers. They have their work well in mind and will be successful in all they undertake.

The whole front was under fire and the entire Italian line swept forward and broke through at several points. Heavy rain was falling during the attack. GREEK EX-PREMIER REFUSES TO RETURN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Ex-Premier Zaimis last night rejected King Constantine's offer of the Greek premiership. He stated that it would be impossible for him to form a ministry. Zaimis also urged the king to appoint ex-Premier Venizelos, who is a strong pro-ally statesman and the most popular man in Greece. King Constantine maintains that he is working for his country's best interests and that when he sees that it will be to the definite advantage of Greece to join the Allies she will do so.

BRITISH TAKE ENTIRE GERMAN LINE

THIEPVAL-COMBLES SALIENT CAPTURED BY GEN. HAIG'S MEN IN TWELVE-HOUR BATTLE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The British are now in possession of all the high ground between Combles and the Albert-Pozieres-Bapaume highway. The German redoubt, called "Wonder Work," was swept up in the attack. The Germans had constructed it of cement and steel and had stated that it could never be taken. The advance of the British was made in the face of a concentrated fire from twelve hundred of Germany's biggest guns. The positions captured were at once consolidated and fierce German counter attacks were repulsed.

WILSON CANCELS ALL IMMEDIATE SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS ON ACCOUNT OF BEREAVEMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW LONDON, Sept. 16.—Mrs. Anne Hall, President Wilson's sister, died this morning at 6:40 o'clock. She had been ill for a number of days and her life was despaired of. President Wilson has canceled all his immediate speaking engagements.

SERVIANS CONTINUE PURSUIT OF BULGARS

PRINCE ALEXANDER AND HIS REORGANIZED ARMY DRIVE THE INVADERS IN DIRECTION OF MONASTIR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SALONIKI, Sept. 16.—The victorious Servians are still driving the Bulgars before them. This morning they had swept back the badly beaten Bulgars to within seven miles of Monastir, the old ecclesiastical town that has seen so much fighting. It is stated that the losses of the Bulgars have been tremendous. The Servians are counted the best fighters of the Balkan states. The Bulgars began to break and retreat after three days of hard fighting.

NAVAL BATTLE IN GULF OF BOTHNIA

RUSSIAN AND GERMAN SQUADRONS CLASH IN NORTHERN WATERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Vague reports of a clash between a Russian and a German squadron in the Gulf of Bothnia were received here today. It is known that a strong German squadron sailed out of the Kiel canal some time ago to make a demonstration in connection with Von Hindenburg's assault on the Riga lines of the Russians. A seaport would be a great assistance to Von Hindenburg.

NEW YORK SYMPATHETIC STRIKE BEGINS

TWENTY THOUSAND LONGSHOREMEN WALK OUT TO AID TRACTION EMPLOYEES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The sympathetic strike, which union leaders declare will result in 75,000 workers leaving their jobs to support the striking traction employees, became effective at noon today. Twenty thousand longshoremen walked out. Others will follow at once.

CONDITIONS IN SOUTH

MRS. WOODARD TELLS OF STATE OF COUNTRY IN TENNESSEE

Mrs. Bert Woodard of S. Maryland avenue, with her little daughter Virginia, returned home Friday, after a three month's stay in Kentucky and Tennessee. "I was glad to visit the South again," said Mrs. Woodard, "and specially glad to note the air of prosperity everywhere. Nashville, Tenn., where Mr. Woodard's people live, is a fine, bustling, lively city, of the modern class. It has increased wonderfully during the past few years and is up-to-date in everything.

"I spent most of my time with my own people in Monticello and visited Suwanee and Lebanon, Tenn. Everywhere there were evidences of the development of the new South. There was to be seen a greater diversity in farming and the people do not seem to rely entirely on cotton as the single crop. The war in Europe has benefited the people of the South to a considerable extent. Sooner than permit the cotton to fall into the hands of Germany the British made arrangements to purchase it. This has thrown a great deal of money into the hands of the southern planters and benefited the South generally. Prosperity is visible on every hand.

"It is possible that the negro is still the live-for-the-day being he used to be; but education and training have done much for the negro and he is visibly improved and more self-reliant than in the past. Of course there is much of the old shiftlessness of the negro to be seen and the old patched-up, dilapidated cabins of the less able of the colored race are still in evidence. On the whole, however, the negro has improved.

"One thing has done a great deal to lift the South out of its old easy-going habits—the automobile. The auto has come to the South as a regenerator. With money and prosperity the South has taken to the automobile with great zest. The consequence has been that good roads are now a necessity. On every hand roads have been and are being built. They are beautiful roads and have awakened up the country as with the touch of a magic wand.

"In Nashville, Tenn., I noticed with pleasure the new boulevard—Capitol boulevard. It is a handsome improvement. There are new schools and new churches everywhere. The negroes seemed to have a number of new churches. That is another indication that they are prospering. In fact I saw very few poor people, really poor people, while I was away. The people are poor compared to those in California perhaps, but actually they have progressed.

"The journey home was pleasant. The weather was agreeable and the scenery wonderful. The trip I made was chiefly to see my own and my husband's people and I come back to Glendale glad to dwell once more in this wonderful climate and to see the beautiful foothills and the grand Sierras."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WORK

Every ambitious young business man and professional man should join the Chamber of Commerce. It will prove a business asset worth many times the cost of membership. It would be impossible to invest dollars in any other way and get surer or larger returns.

The leading firms of the country have begun to realize that friendship is one of the greatest assets in business and they are directing their men to cultivate friendship and acquaintance and especially through trade and civic organizations. Great business houses in the east are advising their men to give personal service to commercial organizations. Community service is broadening; it brings out the best qualities in man; it is a foe to selfishness.

Finally it develops leadership, responsibilities, initiative qualities that are essential to business success. Work in the Chamber leads to valuable friendship and prestige in the community—BOOSTER.

TO ORGANIZE YOUNG MEN

Mr. A. S. Dudley, who is a recent comer to Glendale, will take charge of a young men's class at the Congregational church, corner of Third and Central. This class will meet in connection with the Sunday School. Mr. Dudley has had large experience in organized religious work, he is aggressive and will prove a strong leader. Mr. Dudley is assistant to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles.

Young men of the High school age who are not regularly attending elsewhere are cordially invited to join this class.

FOOTHILLS ACTIVITY

MOVEMENTS IN BUILDINGS AND REAL ESTATE—COMMUNITY COMINGS AND GOINGS

Improvements of the most substantial character are now under way on the half block on North Campbell street fronting on both Mountain and Ross streets. The Milwaukee Building company of Los Angeles is executing the contract for two dwellings, the one on the corner, facing south, to cost $7,500; and the one adjoining on the east, figuring $7,000. Relatives, a brother and a sister, will each occupy a house when completed.

Across the street, facing east, at 1317 Campbell, contractor Morgan has a two-story house of modified Swiss Chalet type, about 70 per cent completed.

May Bros., contractors, have just finished the work in a nine-room high class bungalow at 1315 Louise street. The gardeners are preparing to embellish the east front 60 foot lot.

The demand for new garages for private owners in Casa Verdugo is continuous and steady. A modern two-story garage at 1327 Louise St. is arranged for housekeeping, and is ready for the outside paint.

B. J. Lyons of 1617 Ruth street has bought the small one-story building on the adjoining lot, for removal to his premises and conversion into a housing for his new touring car.

At 1620 Melrose avenue work on a garage 14x20 for Chas. H. Hamilton, was begun Friday, as quarters for his new model Ford car. Mr. Hamilton serves the Griffith Park and Los Feliz Rural Free Delivery, and down to the present has used horses, but deciding to change to a motor car, placed an order with the local Ford dealers, and is number one on the long list for deliveries of the new machines, now enroute. Mr. Hamilton has an advantage over ordinary mortals, in that the State of California exempts the U. S. Government from payment for the auto license numbers.

That there is a silver lining to the dark cloud hanging so long and low over the fair destinies of Mexico, is now and then shown by the facts that follow, which may also be expressed in terms of gold. Edward Gibson, lately an occupant of the Barr place on Valley View road, was preceded by his sons about four years ago to a 1500 acre ranch some 9 miles south of Calexico, that they engaged to operate under a lease—the father arriving later. Last year and the year before the heavy floods on the Colorado river embarrassed the Imperial valley ranchers, where the washed-out ditches and canals have not even yet been fully restored; but on the Mexican side of the line, the banks held, and there has been no interruption in the delivery of irrigation water at any time, with the result that the Gibsons will gather this year, from the fertile, hot and moist bottom lands, a cotton crop from the 800-acre field, valued at $40,000 net, in gold.

The Casa Verdugo representative in the U. S. navy is Raymond Page, who recently visited, on shore leave, his numerous relatives on San Rafael and Ruth streets, prior to the departure of the cruiser San Diego, to which he is attached, for distant southern waters. As a souvenir, he brought from Mexico a clattering parrot, which he left with a sister. Judging from its plumage it will keep his memory "green."

One of the hunting stories of the present deer season, told on the corners hereabouts, relates to the O. C. Logan-Andrews-Weddington party of four, that chose a location for hunting in Ventura County, following reports of fat venison abounding there. Upon arrival and thoroughly beating the bush, the hunters were puzzled at the entire absence of deer. The mystery was solved, however, when one of the Weddingtons caught the eye of an enormous mountain lion glaring at him 100 yards away. His majesty had doubtless put to flight all the deer in the vicinity and was ready for the next comer, when the unerring aim of Weddington lodged a bullet in the vital spot. The varmint was not a specimen of the ordinary bob-tailed wild cat type, but a monster that measured 11 feet from tip to tip. His pelt is worth $25, to which is added a bounty of $25 from the State. Altogether the hunters have good reason to boast of their quarry.

Of interest to the little folks will be the beginning of the story of the long 3,500 mile journey of the three grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hollins, of San Rafael street, from (Continued on Page 2)

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1916

THE PROMISE OF PEACE

People are beginning to ask everywhere, "Is there any promise of peace?" The night of horror and sorrow has reigned so long and yet there is not much sign of a dawn that will give the world rest. Yet even now the Almighty himself may be descending upon the earth in the visions of peace. One can always count on the envy, hatred, malice, uncharitableness and greed of men and of nations; but equally one may count on the even-handed justice of the Supreme that inevitably commends the poisoned chalice to our own lips.

Everywhere one hears the sighs of the prisoners; the groaning of the wounded, the sobs of the widow and orphan, the shouts of the combatants and over all and around all the mighty eloquence of the dead. Seeing the devastated homes, the ruined fortunes and happiness, the desecrated bodies of men and women, the sudden extinguishment of the natural joy of every land, one cannot but wonder when all this is to come to an end.

Up to this point the world has not had an example of such a mighty war. Of course there have been many world slaughters that as far as the world knows were on a scale well-nigh as all-embracing as this. The march of Caesar over Gaul was marked by blood at every step. He is credited with having slaughtered 250,000 men, women and children of one tribe alone. The millions who perished in Napoleon's wars were probably as many as the present war has seen go down in the darkness of death. Napoleon led 450,000 men into Russia and of these only about 40,000 survived.

But whatever comparisons may be made or whatever excuses may be brought forward the present war is involving more nations; is on a grander scale; and is fraught with more important consequences than any of the wars of the nations that preceded it. Sooner or later humanity must reap the evil of which it is now guilty. When blame comes to be apportioned it will likely be swallowed up in the necessity for rebuilding all Europe.

It would indeed be futile to attempt to apportion blame in the matter of the war. There have been wars and rumors of war since the world began and they will probably continue, as long as man remains tainted with the desire to dominate his fellow man and to take from his fellow man that which is his.

Those who believe that this will be the last great war of the world are greatly mistaken, because they are not taking into account the large sections of the world that are uncivilized and that have not reached anything like the ideal taught by Christ. Bloodshed, misery, the whirlwind of passion, the long agony of the wounded, revenge, hatred—all these now raging in the souls of men will not be quieted when the war comes to a close.

As long as nations desire to aggrandize themselves at the expense of their neighbors, as long as they are unwilling to do to other nations as they would that other nations should do to them, it is certain that wars will continue. Nations that are mixed up with the affairs of other nations are almost certain to get into trouble. When one thinks of all this one marvels at the wisdom of George Washington who warned the nation against "entangling alliances."

KING CONSTANTINE OF GREECE

It is unfortunate for King Constantine of Greece that the condition of his health is so bad that he is not able to throw his whole energy into the matters of his realm. On the other hand it may be that his state of health is merely an excuse to save him from the capital blunder he has committed in adhering to a policy of neutrality until the time seems past when Greece could benefit by the announcement of a change of policy. There is a psychological moment in the fate of nations as in that of individuals. If they let it pass it seldom returns.

Constantine in the beginning was certain that the Teutons would win the war. No one can blame him for that idea. He was educated in Germany, brought up in the wonderful school where automatic precision takes the place of intelligent independence of the individual, and believed with no small show of reason that Teutonic methods were unassailable. That idea prevailed in his mind up till the time of the beginning of the Allies' offensive a few months ago. He had also a year ago given out a public statement of his firm belief in the invincibility of German arms. His queen, the sister of the kaiser, added her influence to that already his own by nature and training that inclined him toward the German ascendancy, and he defied his great prime minister Venizelos, and refused positively three times to consider the advisability of making an alliance with the Allies.

What was offered Greece at that time was a splendid chance to gain an addition to Greek territory. Now there is every chance that Greece will lose some of what she has. The fruits of the great war in the Balkans, the two great harbors of Saloniki and Kavala, seem likely to slip away from the nation if matters should go on as they have been doing.

It is significant of the plots of the Bulgarians, that their first step should have been toward the harbor of Kavala, which they also desire and which at the end of a victorious Teuton war, if found in their hands, would stay there. Behind this pitiable scene is the great figure of Venizelos the Cretan, who is one of the master minds of Europe. He is also the idol of the Greek nation, now so sadly disorganized by the indetermination of its king.

Bulgaria, by her advance on Greece, showed the nation how right Venizelos was in his prognostications and they turned from Constantine toward the only man capable of leading them in this crisis. Venizelos' advice is well known. He wishes Greece to join the Allies late as it is and thus snatch something from the fire. Greece has lost the harbor of Kavala at present. The harbor of Saloniki, taken from the Turks, it must be remembered, and handed over to Greece at the close of the last Balkan war, is in the hands of the Allies. Greece is no longer able to look forward to getting the harbor of Avlona, which is now an Italian port. So that her last state is worse than her first, simply because of the false lead of King Constantine.

Casa Verdugo to the new home of their father, the eldest son of the Hollins, in Chattanooga, Tenn. For four years Charlie, May and Jimmie, 10, 8 and 5 years respectively, have lived with their grandparents, in whose hearts, naturally, the roots of attachment grew deep. But the father, a widower, having established a new home, longed for his children too, and called for them. So on Wednesday, 3:30 p. m., they boarded the train in Los Angeles, bound for New Orleans, via the Sunset Route, and due to meet their father there next Saturday evening. "C. H. H., Los Angeles to Chattanooga, Tenn.," read the hands pinned on Charlie's hat, and with confidence they were entrusted to the care of the trainmen and kind fellow-travellers. The children departed with no thought save wide-eyed interest in the immense moving picture that the great journey was putting before them through the car windows; but from the faces of the fond grandparents, the shadow of reluctance at parting with the beautiful children would not be dispelled. News of the safe arrival of the brave little travellers, in due time at their destination, is awaited with interest.

Mrs. Chas. A. Sharp and Mrs. Kurtz, accompanied a party of children to Long Beach Thursday, for a few days' outing as a wind-up to the long vacation, and a stimulant to study, on the opening of school next Monday.

George Mitchell of the County Engineers office, is enjoying a three weeks' vacation.

Geo. W. Tyrrell and family, after an absence of two years from the north end, has returned to Ruth St. and is located at No. 1633.

Andrew Robertson, the popular deputy county clerk, and Mrs. Robertson, of east Stocker street, are dividing a two week's vacation between La Jolla and a large ranch owned by a relative and located near Santa Ana, Orange county.

The Glendale public service department is making numerous new water service connections in the north end, as indicated by the cement meter boxes lying at different places along the streets.

FROM SAN PEDRO DAILY NEWS

Newspaper men to the number of a half hundred gathered at Glendale last evening, to enjoy a banquet given by A. T. Cowan, editor and proprietor of the Daily News of that beautiful little city, in celebration of the third anniversary of the birth of the newspaper.

The feast was spread in the dining room of the Glendale Sanitarium, and was one round of good things from the melon, whose six ounces was announced upon the menu as containing 4 points of protein and 60 of carbohydrates, to the four ounces of cereal coffee which was put down at 12 points of the latter content.

After the enjoyment of the dinner the guests went to the office of the paper, where the city band was rendering a concert, which later was interspersed with short remarks by several of the visitors, after which every one inspected the building. The affair was entirely enjoyable.

CONGREGATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL

Officers and teachers of the Congregational Sunday School met Friday evening, at the home of the Rev. Dr. E. H. Willisford, 231 Orange St., to discuss plans for the Sunday School for the year. They also planned for a Rally day. The meeting was enthusiastic and confident that much progress will be made.

Jamie Shea and Robert Kolts, who graduated from the Glendale High school with the 1916 class, will enter the University of Southern California when the year begins, Oct. 3.

THE WAY TO THE EAST

Any time you have occasion to plan a trip to any point East that can be reached via Salt Lake City, and that means almost anywhere in the United States and Canada, just bear in mind the excellent service of the Salt Lake Route, with its Los Angeles Limited and Pacific Limited trains; less than three days to Chicago, with through sleepers and dining cars. Free chair cars in Pacific Limited. The Overland Express is a good one, too, but not so fast; has through sleepers, chair cars and coaches to Salt Lake, connecting for Eastern points.

FIRST M. E. CONFERENCE

After a year under a new ministry, that of the Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, the First Methodist church held its fourth annual conference, Friday night, in the church, corner Third street and Dayton Court. The church was filled with an interested and enthusiastic audience. The Rev. A. Ray Moore, superintendent of the Pasadena district, presided.

The various committees of the church made their reports and in each was to be noted progress and success. The spirit manifested in the reports showed how active and diligent the pastor, the officers, the heads of societies and the whole congregation have been. Much has been accomplished during the past year and much more will doubtless be accomplished in the new year, when the new church building shall have been completed and the congregation is worshipping in its new home.

The Rev. B. Dudley Snudden appointed the church committees for the coming year. A resolution was read and unanimously adopted heartily commending the work of the pastor, the Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, throughout the past year and urging that the district superintendent see that he be returned to the Glendale congregation for the coming year, when the Southern California M. E. conference convenes in Santa Ana next week.

A pen drawing of the new church building which is soon to be erected was on exhibition. It revealed a nicely detailed modern, institutional church building. The building will be thoroughly ecclesiastical in appearance both on the exterior and interior and at the same time will be thoroughly utilitarian from the point of view of the modern church.

The large meeting broke up with feelings of satisfaction and confidence in the future.

MRS. WEBB OPENS FOURTH SEASON AS PIANO INSTRUCTOR

Mrs. Vivian R. Webb is opening her fourth season as teacher of piano in Glendale. Since coming here from the east she has achieved most gratifying results with her pupils and she is looking forward with enthusiasm to another successful year.

Foremost in Mrs. Webb's teaching is the thought of a thorough foundation. A clear knowledge of harmonic structure, notation, rhythm, ear-training and careful drills in position and movement of fingers, hand and arm are absolutely essential. Only by mastering these fundamentals can one later attain to artistic interpretation.

Recently Mrs. Webb has incorporated Mrs. Zay Rector Bevit's system of using Harmony Diagrams into her teaching. This work fills a long felt need in broadening a pupil's understanding of music, giving him a clear insight into the structure and development of a composition. The work is attractive, leads to intelligent memorizing, rapid sight reading, and enables the pupil to accomplish as much in two years as he would formerly in three. This system gives a good foundation for original composition and paves the way for a ready understanding of advanced harmony. The work is particularly adapted to pupils who have laid aside their piano work for some time and wish to resume it; also for those who have not had musical advantages in early life.

Mrs. Webb is an instructor who brings to bear upon her teachings a knowledge gained by years of study and experience. She is a post-graduate of the Des Moines Musical College; holds a certificate from the A. K. Virgil piano school of New York and studied for a period extending over seven years with Mrs. Charles S. Hardy of Minneapolis, a musician who exemplifies the teaching of Leschetizky and Lhevenne. Later Mrs. Webb sojourned in Vienna, studying with Marie Wittels, concert pianist and teacher of the Leschetizky school of playing.

Mrs. Webb holds a certificate from the California State Board of Education, enabling her to teach piano, harmony and musical appreciation in the high schools. However, though taking great interest in music in the schools, Mrs. Webb will continue in the field of private instruction.

Frequent recitals are given by which the pupil gains poise and confidence. These gatherings create a musical atmosphere and are greatly enjoyed as each pupil delights in hearing the playing of the other students.

Those who contemplate a study of piano may meet Mrs. Webb at her studio, 1112 W. Seventh, second house east of Brand boulevard. Phone Glendale 260-M.

CALIFORNIA CAMPAIGN FEDERATION LINE UP FORCES AT BIG MEETING

The California Dry Federation under the management of Dr. D. M. Gandier has completed one of the most thorough organizations for getting out the dry vote at the November election that has ever been perfected. There was a banquet held under the auspices of this federation in Hamburger's Cafe, Friday evening, September 15. At this banquet Hon. A. J. Wallace was chairman. The speakers were, Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher of the Temple Baptist church, Los Angeles, Hon. Arthur Arlett, a wealthy brick contractor of Oakland, Cal., and Dr. D. M. Gandier, manager of the State Dry Federation. The music was furnished by the Trinity orchestra and the California Dry quartet. There were seven hundred present at the banquet, which was served between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock.

Mr. Arlett informed his audience that he considers the northern part of the State safe on the dry question and the time has come when the majority of the people of San Francisco and Oakland prefer to act at least decent. He says the labor organizations are passing resolutions favoring supporting the dry amendments at the November election. This change has been brought about by the influence of the heads of the unions who have visited large cities in dry states and have noted the improved financial condition of the laboring classes on account of the absence of the saloon.

Dr. Gandier says he considers all parts of the State safe on the dry question except the city of Los Angeles and he feels that that city may be put on the dry side if it is possible to get out a full dry vote.

Dr. Brougher says the main work must be done by the dry federation before 12 o'clock on the night of October 6. A lack of registration by people who will vote dry is what will defeat the prohibition amendment. He urged that dry workers see to it that their neighbors and their neighbors' neighbors are registered before 12 o'clock, October 6, as that is the time when registration for the November election closes.

The Prosperity League, which is the saloon at work, and the Los Angeles Realty Board came in for their just share of criticism. From now until November 7 there will be much active work done by the Dry Federation of California. The chairman read telegrams from the mayors of Seattle and Portland and from the governors of Kansas and Colorado and from the Business Men's association of Denver, all of which reports

HEATS OF MICHIGAN

F. R. BUCHANAN RETURNS FROM MIDDLE WEST MORE IN LOVE WITH CALIFORNIA

"If anyone desires to reside in Southern Michigan or Southern Wisconsin in the good, old summer time," said Mr. J. R. Buchanan, of 204 Orange street, "he may do so for all that I would vex myself about it. I and my family have been in those states during the past three months and we come back to California better pleased with this delightful climate than ever.

"There is no comparison between the climates of those and that of California. In the winter they have bitter winds blowing across the old prairies and blasting, withering heats in summer, when day after day the pitiless sun beats down upon a sea of moisture and turns the whole atmosphere into a Turkish bath of the most extreme kind.

"That was the worst of it. The best of it was that there seemed to be prosperity throughout the land; that there were good crops and general contentment. We left Glendale—myself, Mrs. Buchanan, and our children, Robert and Helene—July 1. From Glendale we traveled to Kansas City, where we spent two pleasant days. Thence we went to Dexter, Michigan, where we spent three weeks. We had a pleasant time at Dexter. It is a beautiful civilized spot, with numerous hotels, golf grounds and the usual accompaniments of such a place. Thence we went to Hartford, Wisconsin, where we spent four weeks. Both there and in Michigan we had splendid fishing. We caught many pike of every species—yellow, blue and wall-eyed. We did not get any muskalonge, the lord of all the American pikes—because Hartford, Wis., is too far south for such fish. It is an inhabitant of the more northern lakes.

"We made up for the absence of the muskalonge by the number of pike, pickerel and perch we caught. We went to Waukesha, famous for its spring water, and motored all round that country, which is the happy hunting ground of the Chicago millionaires. We visited Milwaukee in the height of what is called its season. Milwaukee has its millionaires also and its yacht club and its thousand and one attractions.

"I noticed where wheat was grown it was spotted with rust, a small fungus which is destroying the crop this year. This, however, was not in Wisconsin, which is not a wheat country, nor yet in Michigan, but farther west. This is a pity, for never did the country more need good wheat, with its own increased natural demand and the demand of the warring nations of Europe.

"We got back to California and stopped at San Jose. What a contrast to the eastern states. There was a profusion of flowers luxuriant in their abundance. There were wonderful, ripe, red, luscious tomatoes, the like of which I did not see in the east. There everything was bringing forth abundantly and seemed to be in a state of perfection.

"We all rejoiced to come back to California and when we beheld the familiar outline of the foothills of Glendale our hearts went forth toward them as if they had been, as indeed they have become, our native hills."

SUCCESSFUL WHIST PARTY

Members of the Church of the Holy Family, the Roman Catholic body of Glendale, enjoyed a very successful whist party, Thursday afternoon. The party was given at the home of Mrs. Ewins, 747 S. Verdugo road. More than 60 persons were present. The ladies all helped to make the affair a success and Mrs. Ewins desires to thank them for their effective assistance. At the conclusion of the party it was found that Mrs. Derkins of Casa Verdugo had won first prize and Mrs. Ryan of Los Angeles, the booby prize. The house was beautifully decorated with yellow flowers and ferns. Ice cream and cake were served.

The following visitors were present: Mrs. J. Vincent Hannon, Mrs. O. T. Helping, Mrs. Ryan, Mrs. Ricard, Mrs. De Witt and friend and Mrs. Macdonough—all of Los Angeles. Mrs. Boxall and Mrs. Saulque of Angeles Mesa were also present.

A large sum was raised which will go toward the building fund for the new church, which is to be erected shortly. The next party will be held at the home of Mrs. Gavin Moore, Tropic, Thursday, Sept. 28.

TO MUSTER IN COMPANY

Within a short time the local company of the Second Regiment of Coast Artillery, U. S. A. Reserves, will be mustered in. The muster-in will be conducted by Lieut.-Col. Fay of San Diego. At a meeting of the regimental officers of the Second Regiment, held Thursday night in Los Angeles, with an attendance of fifty officers, First Lieut. Nicolas of the Glendale company stated that the Glendale company had already 70 men enrolled with the prospect of more. Col. H. B. Light of the Second regiment, stated that the United States government had accepted the offer of the 840 men who had offered to join this artillery organization.

A Dairy That Needs No Sanitary Legislation

Long before laws and ordinances were passed in regard to sanitary conditions of dairies and the handling of milk, MacMullin's had a sanitary dairy in every sense of the word, and all sanitary requirements were courted.

MacMullin's dairy not only complies with all laws and ordinances, but meets more sanitary conditions than are required, and has justly won the reputation of being "the Most Sanitary Dairy in the San Fernando Valley."

A GOVERNMENT RESERVATION FOR WILD ANIMALS

If the government could find an antelope buck and a group of prairie chickens, its big wild game preserve in Oklahoma would be completely stocked. These two species of wild life, once so abundant in the West, are now nearly extinct as to be very difficult to find. Two female antelope are now living on the reservation, and it is hoped to secure a small flock of the chickens from other parts of Oklahoma, where a few are yet in existence.

When the government took over the sixty-one thousand acres of the Wichita reservation in 1906, the tract already harbored beavers, otters, deer, a drove of wild turkeys, and thousands of ducks. Formerly it had been the stamping ground of thousands of buffalo and antelope. Only bleached bones now tell of these former inhabitants. About ten years ago fifteen buffalo from the New York Zoological Gardens were placed on the new preserve and thrived so well in the home of their ancestors that the herd has now increased to sixty-two. The United States game warden of this immense tract, Frank Rush, expects that, in the not distant future, there will be hundreds, or, perhaps, thousands, of these great animals roaming these broad acres from which they had been so nearly exterminated.

Five elk from Wyoming have recently been shipped to the reservation and it is hoped that these, freed from the fear of hunters, will also thrive. Gradually Uncle Sam is gathering together the greatest collection of American game animals, living under natural conditions. It is hoped that certain types that were becoming almost extinct will be preserved. Properly attested sportsmen will still be allowed on the reservation—but only those who hunt with cameras.—Wellspring.

RELIANCE

Not to the swift the race;
Not to the strong, the fight;
Not to the righteous, perfect grace;
Nor to the wise, the light.

But often faltering feet
Come surest to the goal;
And they who walk in the darkness meet
The sunrise of the soul.

A thousand times by night
The Syrian hosts have died;
A thousand times the vanquished right
Hath risen glorified.

The truth the wise men sought
Was spoken by a child;
The alabaster box was brought
In trembling hands defiled.

Not from my torch the gleam,
But from my stars above;
Not from my heart life's crystal stream,
But from the depths of love.
—Henry Van Dyke.
